

HW4

There exist dispersive media for which the product of the phase velocity and group velocity is the constant  $c^2$ , independent of frequency. What functional form of the refractive index  $n(\omega)$  does this special case imply?